For cattle, horses ca. 15-20 globules

For sheep, goats, pigs ca. 5-10 globules

For dogs, cats ca. 3-10 globules

Remastin – Mastitis Globules for animals can be dissolved in water or added to the feed or drink.

Frequency and duration of administration:

The frequency and duration of administration primarily depends on homeopathic principles and the illness as such.

Please consult a vet if symptoms do not improve or get worse within the first 24h of treatment.

At the beginning of the treatment one dose of globules can be administered repeatedly at short intervals (15min), depending on the seriousness of the illness. When symptoms improve, the dose is to be administered 3 to 4 times a day for several days, then administered less frequently, and, finally, administration should be stopped.

9. ADMINISTRATION

See "Dose".

In case of any uncertainty please contact an expert for advice.

10. WITHDRAWAL TIME (IF APPLICABLE)

Edible tissue: zero days

Milk: zero days

11. STORAGE

To be kept out of reach of children.

Do not store above 25°C. Keep the container closed in order to protect the globules from humidity. Not to be kept in the vicinity of strong electromagnetic fields (e.g. TV sets, computer screens, microwave ovens).

The remedy is not to be used beyond the expiry date indicated.

12. WARNING

Special precautions to be taken

When using homeopathic remedies for a longer period of time or for conditions not indicated on the leaflet, homeopathic proving symptoms may occur.

Administration during pregnancy and lactation

During pregnancy and lactation this remedy should only be administered after consulting a vet.

Interaction with other drugs and other forms of interaction

There may also be interactions with other drugs in the case of homeopathic remedies. If the homeopathic remedy is to be administered together with other drugs, please consult your vet.
